Should the behaviors, attitudes or actions of any coach or other faction of the member organization be contrary to these principles or to the goals and philosophies of Special Olympics, one or more of the following steps may be taken by the Games Committee, Sports Officials, and/or Special Olympics Illinois in an effort to alleviate the situation without further affecting Special Olympics athletes:

1. The coach will be notified of the undesirable behavior or action and requested to remedy the situation for continued participation.
2. The coach will be requested to withdraw personally or as an organization from the remainder of the event or tournament.
3. If a team is found using an ineligible or illegal player, the team will forfeit all games in which the athlete played, forfeit any awards that were received, and will not advance to the next level of competition.

In the event of extreme or repeated behavior or actions, Special Olympics Illinois may:

1. Prevent the coach or organization from participating in any or all Special Olympics events for a specified period of time.
2. Prevent the coach or organization from participating in Special Olympics Illinois indefinitely.
3. If a coach is suspended or their coaching status has been revoked, all sports certifications will be revoked and the individual must re-certify those sports records. The coach must submit a letter to the Vice President of Sports & Competition explaining why they should be reinstated as a coach. If approval is granted for reinstatement, then the individual will be required to submit a new Class A Volunteer Registration Form and again complete the Protective Behaviors and Concussion Awareness trainings. Sports recertification cannot occur until after they have been reinstated as a coach.

Special Olympics Illinois will document coach conduct issues at all levels and communicate infractions to appropriate staff. Progressive disciplinary measures will be used unless infractions are extreme in nature.
